Since forming Tonic Sol-fa 14 years ago, Greg Bannwarth, Jared Dove, Shaun Johnson and Mark McGowan have established themselves as one of the hottest a cappella ensembles to come out of the Midwest. They perform upwards of 150 shows each year throughout the country and are particular favorites on university and college campuses. The group has released seven albums and two DVDs of original songs and their own arrangements of existing music, most recently Just One of Those Days and If I Can Dream. This year, their public television holiday special will be distributed worldwide.

Tonic Sol-fa's four members share a common passion for singing, yet each pursues independent interests. Greg Bannwarth (Sioux Falls, South Dakota) lists dancing and outdoor activities as his hobbies, while Jared Dove (Green River, Wyoming) enjoys reading and spending time with his family. Shaun Johnson (Algona, Iowa) loves road trips and writing both songs and fiction, and Mark

McGowan (Sioux

City, Iowa) has taken up in-line

skating and ice

skating. For more
